"All that is not given will be lost."

Karta Singh Khalsa was born in Morocco in 1950. In his early life he was influenced by the teachings of the Sufis. Passionate about sacred construction, architecture, music, and dance. At the age of 21, he was initiated to the freemasons, where he learned about traditional and spiritual teachings. Later, he was initiated to shamanic techniques of healing. Looking for a true master (Satguru), he met Yogi Bhajan what led him to give up his work as a national forester to become a yogi.

While living a family life with four children, Karta Singh spent most of his time spreading the teachings. He created the French federation of Kundalini Yoga teachers and is responsible for the program of the European Kundalini Yoga Festival.

As a pioneer, he created the teacher training in France, Belgium, England, Russia, Austria, and Switzerland. He also contributes to the spreading of the teaching in Germany.

He was called to teach with Yogi Bhajan at the Master's Touch courses in Assisi and Blois.

Karta Singh also contributes to elaborate the curriculum of levels 1 and 2 as a member of the advisory board of KRI.

With his team, he allows many students to transform their destiny towards a more happy, healthy, and holy life. His work today is to complete the school and build an international sangat.
